

Two Bay Area Critics Circle Awards—
Original Script and Solo Performance
SF Bay Guardian Solo Performance Award

"It delivers the thrill of a performance virtuoso riding high and hard on the power of the spoken word."

—SF CHRONICLE

"Wortham proves himself a gifted Chameleon of a performer and a writer with perfect pitch for the mad music of contemporary speech."

—SF BAY GUARDIAN

Frank Wortham returns with his celebrated solo show House of Lucky, which premiered at Impact and went on to runs at the Marsh and the Magic Theatre. Frank portrays 17 different characters in the life of Harper Jones, a twentysomething poet working for a Green Tortoise-like bus-travel company. Part Fear and Loathing, part Clerks, House of Lucky is a drug-fueled odyssey through two days and nights. Impact is beyond excited to welcome Frank back to La Val's for this uniquely San Franciscan coming-of-age tale that has thrilled audiences and critics alike.

"Wortham is the ultimate adventure tour guide taking us on the wild ride through Muni tunnels and the hills of Potrero and North Beach."

—SF EXAMINER

"House of Lucky feverishly captures the high of reckless youth, as well as the hedonist's hangover. Wortham is one of the most exciting young performers around."

—SAN JOSE MERCURY NEWS

House of Lucky is the first show in Impact's 06/07 Season of Sin. It contains pride, envy, gluttony, lust, anger, and sloth. 6 out of 7!

IMPACT'S Night of Sin

It ain't your parents' theatre benefit (but it's the one they wish they'd had). It's Impact's Night of Sin, a three-hour descent into lust, envy, greed, pride, sloth, anger and gluttony featuring games, performances, food, prizes, a silent auction, and other things we're sure you'll regret the next morning.
